Employee commitment and customer respect

Why are fasteners deemed essential?

Many people wondered why we didn't shut down this spring when so many businesses were forced to temporarily close their doors. Even some of our employees were concerned about coming to work amidst these uncertain times. But, please consider what holds a hospital bed together... or what is needed to erect a pop-up tent where rapid COVID-19 tests could be administered...or even what may be required to build thousands of ventilators...

Our world is filled with fasteners. Look under your chairs or inside your car door panel or examine that battery panel on the back of musical Barbie.

While some may be for toys or recreational vehicles or sports cars, many fasteners are critical in medical and military applications, especially during a pandemic. When our team realized that we could contribute to the greater good, we conquered our fears and came to work! We are incredibly proud to have supported our customers who remained open and needed our fasteners in an essential application. While we haven't been able to visit our customers or attend conferences, we have expanded our virtual presence with more emails, a LinkedIn page and a digital customer satisfaction survey. We are more committed than ever to staying connected to our customers and continuing to find ways to improve our product offerings and services.

God Bless each of you and your loved ones.
